

MASTERWORKS INTERNATIONAL

Open Learning and Individual Training in Polarity Therapy

Masterworks International welcomes the opportunity to bring Polarity Therapy to a wider audience through the medium of modern technologies, recognising that, more and more, teaching of all subjects will come to rely on these methods. However the personal touch is of paramount importance and this course has been carefully constructed to guide the individual through the unique system of drugless healing that is Polarity as well as providing personal contact and support at each step of the way. It was always Dr Stone's wish that Polarity be taken up by as many people as possible, and now at last it is accessible to all regardless of geographic location.

Tuition in our Open Learning programme is provided by DVDs, books, guided study plans, ongoing mentoring, support and supervision by email, skype and telephone.

Our Individual training is self explanatory.

Polarity Therapy

Polarity Therapy is a powerful holistic approach to health and well-being which more and more is becoming recognised as an effective tool for the health care professional to aid in the prevention and alleviation of illness as well as the facilitation of the return to wellness. The Polarity Principle works on the assumption that there is such a thing as life energy and that disease results when our life energy is blocked or is out of balance. The free flow of life energy is necessary for health. The aim of Polarity Therapy is to correct imbalances in the energy flow and enable the body's self-healing systems to operate effectively.

A Polarity Therapist works to release and balance the life energy in the body through the use of specialised bodywork which can release tension and holding patterns in the physical body and the psyche, enlivening the life force that exists within us all, and thus enable the reconnection with the deep core of being. Thus the system encourages the expression of the essential self and is a powerful tool for personal discovery and growth as well as an effective aid to the return to wholeness and wellbeing.

his successor Pierre Pannetier

The system was developed by Dr. Randolph Stone, a naturalised American, who spent the majority of his long life (1890-1981) studying the healing practises of India and China as well as the Western disciplines of Chiropractic, Osteopathy and Naturopathy to continually refine and add to the body of work that is Polarity Therapy.

Within the system are extremely effective techniques for the release of pain and muscle spasm; ways of addressing the structure of the body and correcting distortions; techniques for interfacing with the body's main systems such as the central and autonomic nervous system; the digestive system, and lymphatic system as well as cleansing regimes and dietary input. There is even an exercise regime called Polarity Yoga. Polarity therapy is an extraordinary health care system based on sound naturopathic practices, ancient healing principles and skilled use of energetically based bodywork.

Thus Polarity is an eclectic blend of Eastern and Western thinking and practice in the alternative health care field. It is a gentle method of drugless healing that works with the whole person (mind, body, emotions and spirit). It is a true energy medicine that forms a complete treatment regime in it own right but is also a complementary therapy in the sense that it can happily co-exist with other forms of orthodox allopathic treatment. Indeed many practitioners of other disciplines such as massage, chiropractic and osteopathy have found it an invaluable addition to their practice.

OPEN LEARNING PROGRAMME

This programme is a unique means of studying Polarity therapy, combining the best of traditional classroom learning techniques with the benefits of a home study programme.

Tuition is provided on DVDs, books, guided study plans, ongoing mentoring, support and supervision by email, skype and telephone.

The course syllabus covers basic and advanced energy theory, diagnostic procedures, energy balancing techniques, five element theory and application, structural balancing, polarity yoga exercises, nutritional and naturopathic theory and practice, communication and facilitation skills. The full detailed and referenced syllabus, which shows the scope of Polarity follows towards the end of this prospectus.

Frequently Asked Questions

Are there advantages to Open learning?

Definitely, group instruction can be a problematic issue for some people. You cannot choose your classmates and sometimes the group dynamic can over shadow the fundamental purpose of the course and impede the learning process. Effectively the Polarity Open learning course offers in large part individual tuition. The material is absorbed at the rate that is most relevant for you as you are not being dictated by the overall learning pace that takes place in a group setting and which is often dictated by the slowest learners in the group. You also have access to experienced, international trainers and a body of work that you can review at any time. It also limits the amount of money and time that you spend on travel and accommodation when you do a long term training.

In 1987, Phoenix University, USA ran a project to measure the learning outcomes of online education. Every student who entered the programme took a Comprehensive Cognitive Assessment to measure their subject-matter knowledge, judgement, and problem-solving skills, and then took it again at graduation so learning was measured to determine whether they had reached the learning outcomes specified in the curriculum. The results indicated that online students performed as well or better in subject-matter achievement, when compared to their peers in classroom programs.

In the December 2000 issue of Positive Health magazine, Leon Chaitow ND DO, a senior lecturer at the University Of Westminster in London said, “ Already under active development in the USA are home learning courses (to BSc level) in (for example) massage therapy, which will, as a matter of course, incorporate many of the methods I have mentioned, as integral aspects of the curriculum. These distance learning approaches will be coupled with intensive residential periods of instruction and evaluation, and will create a basis for a wide range of bodywork skills to be acquired from the home computer, using interactive programmes...”

What are the disadvantages of this kind of training?

The course structure is not suitable for everyone. The main disadvantage is that it requires much more personal discipline in the study process, there being no group energy to support the learning. All groups offer mutual support, encouragement and even friendly rivalry as motivating and supporting factors. You must honestly evaluate your degree of self motivation and commitment to a self directed study programme.

How long will the training take?

This unique Open Learning format is essentially under your control. This means that you can study the material presented much faster than in a traditional group training if you so wish, yet fit your studies into your lifestyle and organise your time to suit you. You are in control of your studies so you can go as fast or as slow as you like.

Is it really possible to learn a bodywork system via Open learning?

The simple answer is YES! Realistically a very large part of any bodywork training is theory based. There is no reason why all theoretical presentations need to be done in a traditional classroom setting. The DVDs of the bodywork sessions are clear with precise instructions on how to carry out each technique and the refinement of the quality of touch that is so important to be an effective Polarity therapist is evolved in the 10 days of contact time with a mentor that is a crucial part of our unique course structure.

What if I don't understand part of the material ?

That's what we are here for. You can contact us through email, skype or telephone and receive support.

What is the fee for the course ?

The fee is €450 for our Open Learning Pack of study materials. The ten days of face to face mentoring is in addition to this and payable directly to your mentor. The fee for this is agreed with them at the time. Currently we have mentors available in the UK, USA, Australia, Italy and Ireland.

What does the Open Learning Pack consist of ?

The Pack contains the following books:

Volume 1 and 2 on Polarity Therapy by Randolph Stone, the founder of Polarity Therapy

Health Building by Randolph Stone

Polarity Therapy-Healing with Life energy by Alan Siegel

The Art of Polarity Therapy by Phil Young

Quinta Essentia-The Five Elements by Morag Campbell

Masterworks International Study Manual

4 Study Guides covering 102 lessons

The following dvds:

36 hours of theory lectures covering Energy Anatomy, Polarisation, Sensory and Motor Energy Flows, Involution/Evolution Energy, Chakra Regulation, Healing Crisis, Chronic and Acute conditions. Nutrition, communication skills

11 hours of instructional dvds on Bodywork protocols covering some 70 treatment sessions and polarity yoga.

How exactly is the course structured ?

Your first step is to purchase the study pack and then follow the step by step instructions in your study guide. When you are ready you can arrange with a mentor for your face to face mentoring days. It is usually a good idea to book a few days near the beginning of your studies to ensure that you are on the right track and to hone the bodywork skills necessary for a lot of the polarity bodywork sessions such as the modes of touch that are utilised which are unique to polarity. Other days can be booked towards the end of your studies. When you feel ready, you can book to undertake your final examination prior to certification. It is possible for the examination to be undertaken by computer link or, in some cases, with the supervision of a local moderator. There is a small fee for this.

Do I need to be a therapist or health care professional in order to take the course ?

No. All you need is a genuine interest in and liking for people as well as a desire to help and heal. Of course if you are already a health care professional then Polarity will enhance your practise greatly. Some students take the training with the ultimate goal of establishing a successful practise as a Polarity Therapist, others out of a desire to simply learn more about Polarity and the life energy for their own personal development.

Is all the course material in English ?

Yes it is so you will need to be proficient in both written and spoken English.

Do I receive certification ?

On successful completion and final examination you are awarded a diploma from MASTERWORKS INTERNATIONAL acknowledging your skill and competency in the art of Polarity Therapy. This certification enables you to apply to join the International Polarity Education Alliance (IPEA) as a Polarity Therapy Professional. (PTP). www.polarityeducation.org

What happens after I finish the training ?

Polarity Therapy is a vast subject and there is always a need to enhance and deepen your skills. The IPEA has an extensive resource section which is available for a modest fee and holds ongoing Gatherings where polarity therapists can come together to learn and share experiences.

NB: Regulations for practice vary in different countries and you will need to research if there are additional requirements necessary, such as study in Anatomy and Physiology, before you can practice in your area.

INDIVIDUAL TRAINING PROGRAMME

tailor-made to suit you

Are there advantages to Individual learning?

Absolutely. You learn alongside masters of their craft with 60 years experience between them and the training is customised to take into account your background and needs.

This one to one training allows you to take advantage of your tutors in depth knowledge of Polarity but also to avail of their experience gained through thousands of hours of clinical practice. You also gain by learning by “osmosis” especially when it comes to the nuances of bodywork thus enabling you to gain high levels of skill not usually developed by a practitioner until several years of practice have elapsed. Experience has shown us that individuals who undergo this type of training have a superior grasp of the material than those who elect to do group training.

Are there disadvantages to this style of learning?

We haven't come across any so far.

How long is the training?

30 days in total, but remember you can choose how long you spend with us at a time. You can split it into 3 sections or more. You choose and we will do our best to accommodate you.

How much is this training ?

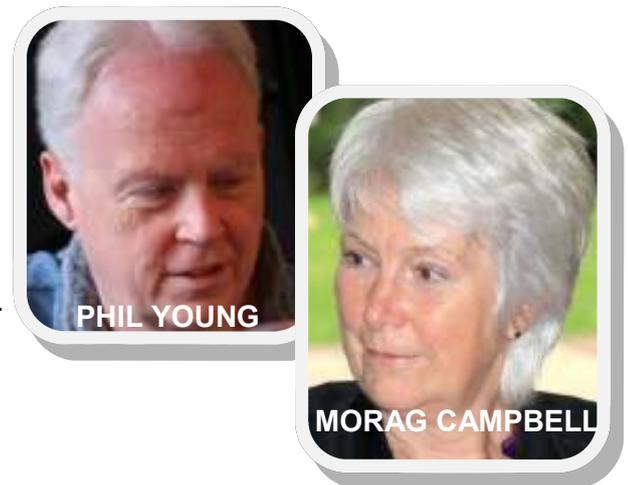

€6995 which can be paid in instalments by arrangement.

What does the course fee cover?

Tuition fees and all course materials, including all the books and dvds that are given out in our Open Learning course so you can review the course anytime you like in the future.

Why is it so expensive ?

We don't think it is! You get to work, one on one, with world class Polarity masters with over 60 years experience between them. That's a great opportunity!

DETAILED COURSE SYLLABUS

For Open Learning and Individual Training Programme

ENERGY THEORY

The concept of energy. Polarity as the magnet of life. The step down of energy into matter. The involutory and evolutionary cycles of energy. The three gunas; their significance and application within Polarity Therapy with particular reference to qualities of touch and verbal intervention. Polarity concepts of health physically, emotionally, mentally, spiritually and energetically.

Full and detailed exploration of the energetic anatomy. The Chakra system, caduceus and straight line currents. The umbilical spiral. The Oval fields and transition areas.

The Five Element theory and an exploration of each element being by name; Ether, Air, Fire, Water and Earth. The Five Elements as a naturalistic viewpoint on creation. The role of astrology and the elements and the weaving of the body in utero. Body types related to the elements. The interaction and dependency of the elements upon one another. How the elements seek expression either externally or internally; outwardly through social interaction or if this channel is blocked then inwardly through disease symptoms.

[all references are to "Polarity Therapy Volumes I and II" by Dr Randolph Stone. References to the energy theory below are examples only; many references to specific energy balancing concepts appear throughout Dr Stone's books]

Specific energy balancing concepts:

- (i) Bi-polar contacts to balance left with right, top with bottom, front with back e.g. Vol 2. Bk 5. P.74
- (ii) Polarising opposing fields to clear the connecting circuits of energy Vol 2. Bk 5. P.76
- (iii) Balance all three poles in any system Vol 2. Bk 5. P.39
- (iv) Simultaneous stimulation of weak areas and sedation of areas of excess (electromagnetic balancing) Vol 2. Bk 5. P.80
- (v) Clear blocked areas and balance with the supply centres. Vol 2. Bk 5. P. 65
- (vi) Stimulate two elements to affect a third. Vol 2. 25 CHARTS, CHART 17
- (vii) Using field effect phenomena to connect current flow Vol 1. Bk 3. P.41
- (viii) Centrifugal and centripetal energy flow stimulation. Vol 1. Bk 3.P.40-41
- (ix) Treating Yin and Yang conditions. Vol 1. Bk 1. P.71-74
- (x) Contacts with current flow to sedate and against current flow to relax Vol 1. Bk 2. P.30-31
- (xi) Activate energetic pathways and then polarise the related (or reflex areas) areas.
- (xii) Clear local obstructions and flow energy through the poles. (Pierre Pannetier)
- (xiii) Balancing by Contour Vol 1. Bk 1. P.78-80

BODYWORK and THEORY

Teaching of bodywork always includes the theory behind the manipulations, guidelines on when to use them plus any contra-indications.

NOTE: The general energy balancing session in its final form as taught by Pierre Pannetier is taught as a framework that embodies most of the basic concepts of bodywork treatment by Polarity. Pierre said that the treatment was based primarily on the chart in Vol 1. BK 3. P.45.

GENERAL ENERGY BALANCING SESSION.

Occiput and 10th Cranial hold.

*Forehead and occiput - sensory/motor balance,

STIMULATING THE CEREBRO-SPINAL FLUID CIRCULATION

Exploration of Dr Stones changing view point on how energy is distributed through the body. Starting with the Chinese (and osteopathic view of arterial circulation) concept of the blood as the carrier of the bulk of the prana in circulation in the body (Vol 1. BK 1. P.57) and evolving to the perspective of the cerebro-spinal fluid as being the main carrier of prana (Health Building P.13). A look at the evolution of Craniopathy into modern Cranial-Sacral therapy and current theories on the cerebro-spinal function. Our Viewpoint: that csf work has a greater relationship to the physical body and earth element than any primary or core energy process.

THE ENERGY STRESS MODEL

A psychological view point of body structure, taking into account differences between standing and sitting postures and all related to the ability of the body-mind energy to adapt over time, emotional patterns, gender/personal identity and hemispherical brain dominance. Practical applications: Body reading of the oval fields from the side and the pelvic/spinal alignment from the back. How to utilise this understanding to improve the effectiveness of verbal communication work.

COMMUNICATION AND FACILITATION

The aim of this area of practise is to facilitate and clarify with the client the patterns of their internal and external communication (the patterns of their thoughts, feelings, emotions and expression) in order that they can reorganise their life towards a higher level of wellness.

1. The Polarity model of the mind, energy and emotions.

- (a) The existence of a source beyond the self
- (b) The unity of mind and body
- (c) The flow of energy within the mind i.e. The involutory - evolutionary cycle of the emotions (5 passions/ 5 virtues)
- (d) The concept of moving from a state of unconsciousness to one of greater awareness
- (e) Life energy and its relationship to emotion and consciousness. Blockages in mind energy flow manifest as pain, discomfort and mental dis-ease.
- (f) The concept of the psychology of a person or that which is inside being reflected outside in their daily life.
- (g) The psychological states that manifest in each of the five phases of energetic activity (5 elements)
- (h) The role of the mind in healing as:

(i) the use of affirmation i.e. focus on health, growth and the source and significance of existence (top/ bottom balance). Creating positive thoughts and attitudes.

(ii) balancing male and female qualities both in internal as well as external relationships (left/right balance). The essential aspects of the male and female, structure, yin and yang, gender issues, and relationships.

(iii) understanding the significance of past experience on current and future mental-emotional behaviours and patterns (front/back balance). Exploration of time lines.

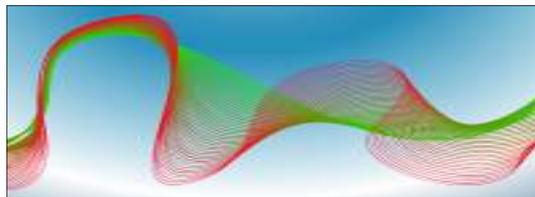

2. Personal qualities within the Polarity Therapist that underpin the achievement of the fundamental aim.

- (a) Empathy
- (b) Respect
- (c) Concreteness
- (d) Genuineness
- (e) Confrontation
- (f) Immediacy

All these qualities being held within the space of a loving wisdom that is applied within the therapist themselves and to their clients ('the treatment is the way you treat the client' R. D. Laing).

3. The tools that the Polarity Therapist uses to facilitate the fundamental aim. All of which are aspects of good communication and help to create a safe space for the client.

- (a) A full understanding of the Polarity model of mental and emotional wellness (section 1.)
- (b) Rapport (creating a safe or receptive space)
 - i. Pacing
 - ii. Matching
- (c) Mirroring
(putting yourself in the clients position both physically and emotionally)

SOUND

Within the framework of communication and facilitation skills the Polarity therapist is dealing with verbal communication and the role of 'sound' is intrinsic to this process. Basic sound theory is explored as set out below:

The ultra-sonic core. Sound creating structure and form. The sound qualities of the different elements and how to identify them. The positive and negative aspects of the elements and how to identify them in the patterns of communication that a person uses. VOL 2. 25 CHARTS. CHART 21.

Sound is also explored with reference to bodywork specifically in toning i.e. using the voice to resonate with the different chakras and oval fields.

Practical experience with:

Toning during bodywork.

Utilising sound to resonate with the chakras and ovals for clearing the energy fields. VOL 1. BK 2. P79. HB. P 148.

DIET AND NUTRITION

The role of diet in the healing process and the maintenance of health and its place as self help in the whole process. Dr Stone's dual approach of purification (or detoxification) and tissue rebuilding through diet studied in detail. The use of skin brushing and colon hydrotherapy techniques (enemas and colonics) to facilitate this process. How to control and manage a detoxification programme. All the dietary theory is explored from the perspective of Polarity five element theory, the Ayurvedic doshic theory as well as Western nutritional understanding. Basic guidelines on the function and use of vitamins and minerals as dietary supplements. Practical experience of this work is an important part of the learning process.

EXERCISE

Exploration of the role of exercise in a clients return to wellness and its continuing maintenance. Like diet, exercises are self help techniques that client takes responsibility for. The function and dynamics of polarity exercise. Contra-indications to specific exercises depending upon the clients general health, fitness and flexibility. The concept of wu wei or effortless effort. Dr Stone quote 'Subtle energy stretches done with mindfulness and attention' HB P. How to structure and teach an exercise in a one on one as well as a group context.

ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY

The topic of Anatomy and Physiology is not part of the Polarity training, although some anatomy, physiology and pathology is taught especially where it appertains to the spine, nervous system and digestive system. It therefore falls to the student to undertake a course in A&P alongside the study of Polarity Therapy. You will not be required to undertake study of A&P if you have sufficient prior experience and training in this modality.

CREATING A PRACTICE.

Exploration of the problems and challenges of creating a viable practice. Personal support issues for the therapist, peer group, networking, referrals and personal therapy etc. Effective forms of advertising. Finding suitable rooms and equipment. Issues of ethics, insurance and the keeping of adequate records. Joining a professional society.
